

Sue Ann Atkerson, Associate Consultant

Specialties:

Offering management consultation and staff training for clinical programs, with a special emphasis on clinical administration and leadership.

Developing programs and internal teams to achieve successful state licensing and national accreditation status—building clinical supervision models as part of the process.

Providing targeted consultation to help you develop and implement clinical delivery systems based on best practices.

For Sue Ann Atkerson, the desire to build effective clinical delivery systems started with a passion for helping people. After several years as a mental health clinician, Sue Ann's career took a satisfying turn into management and administration, where her leadership, program development, and team training had a broad positive impact at the organizational level. This transition also revealed Sue Ann's considerable talents for bridging the worlds of funding, administration, and service provision. She currently holds a senior leadership position at a community mental health agency in Arizona, and utilizes her up-to-date knowledge to advise client organizations. Her prior experience includes development and oversight of several co-occurring partial and outpatient programs, as well as direct clinical service to adults.
